Getting ready NY

@mariaenglishlessons

Welcome!

Hi there! Welcome aboard your very own English cruise experience! Today, you're not just a student—you're a passenger heading from the iconic skyline of New York City all the way to the turquoise waters of the Caribbean Sea. 🏙️🚢🌴

Sounds exciting, right? But... have you ever heard the saying 'Not everything goes according to plan'? 😊

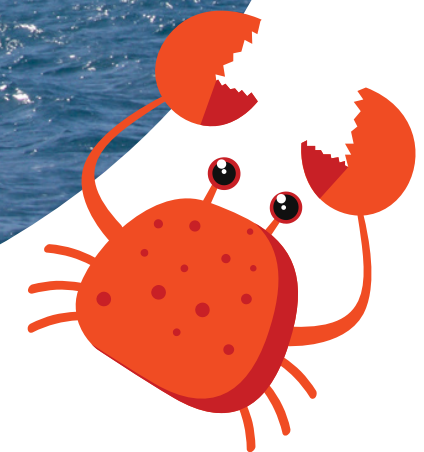

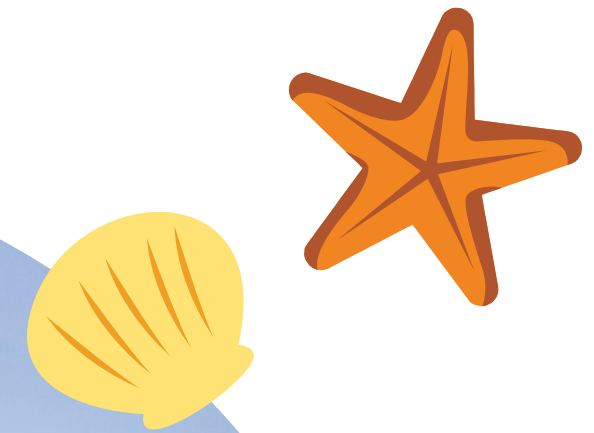

Whether it's missing luggage, getting seasick, or trying to understand a fast-talking New Yorker from the crew, cruising can have its challenges—and that's exactly what we're going to explore today!

This lesson is all about helping you feel confident and prepared to handle anything unexpected on your cruise. You'll learn:

- ✓ How to explain a problem politely and clearly
- ✓ Useful cruise-related vocabulary
- ✓ Everyday expressions and slang from American crew and passengers
- ✓ How to respond and stay calm in tricky travel situations

And don't worry—we'll do it all through fun roleplays, real-life scenarios, and maybe even a little drama. 🎭

So grab your virtual suitcase, imagine the sea breeze, and let's set sail!"

warming up questions

Have you ever been on a cruise before?
If yes, what was it like? If not, would you like to go?

What do you imagine a cruise from NYC to the Caribbean would be like?

What problems do you think might happen on a cruise?

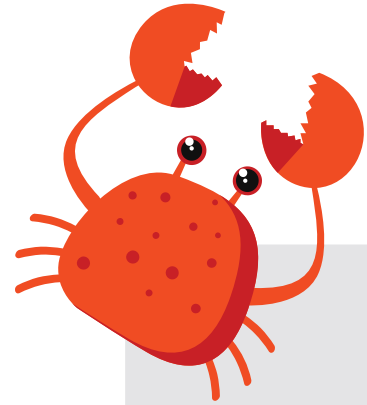

How do you usually react when something goes wrong while traveling?

Are you calm? Do you get frustrated? How do you ask for help?

What's the difference between asking for help in English vs. your native language?

Do you feel more or less confident?

Finding Your Way & Solving a Problem on the Cruise

 Passenger:

Hi! Sorry to bother you. I think I got charged twice for the Wi-Fi package... could you help?

  Crew:

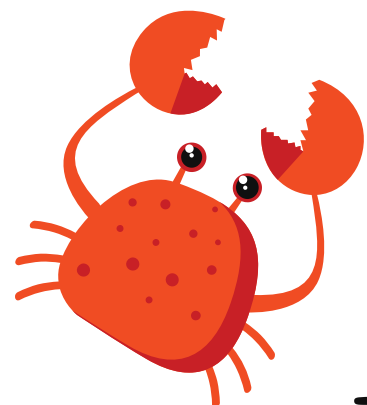

No worries at all! Hang tight, I got you. What's your cabin number?

 Passenger:

C303. I just want to make sure I didn't accidentally sign up twice.

  Crew (checking computer):

Looks like there's a duplicate, yeah. I'll fix that for you. You're all set now!

Finding Your Way & Solving a Problem on the Cruise

 Passenger:

Thank you! Also... where's the spa? I keep getting lost on this ship.

  Crew (laughs):

You good?

Alright—you'll wanna head that way, past the elevators, and it's down by Deck 5, past the buffet.

 Passenger:

Perfect! Oh—and my friend got sick from the waves. Do you have anything for that?

  Crew:

Yeah, totally. Just send them to the medical center. If they're not feeling up to walking, let me flag someone down to help out.

And hey, heads up—the waves might pick up later tonight. It's a little choppy today.

Finding Your Way & Solving a Problem on the Cruise

👤 Passenger:

Thanks for the warning! Also... what's going on with the elevator line?

👤✈️ Crew:

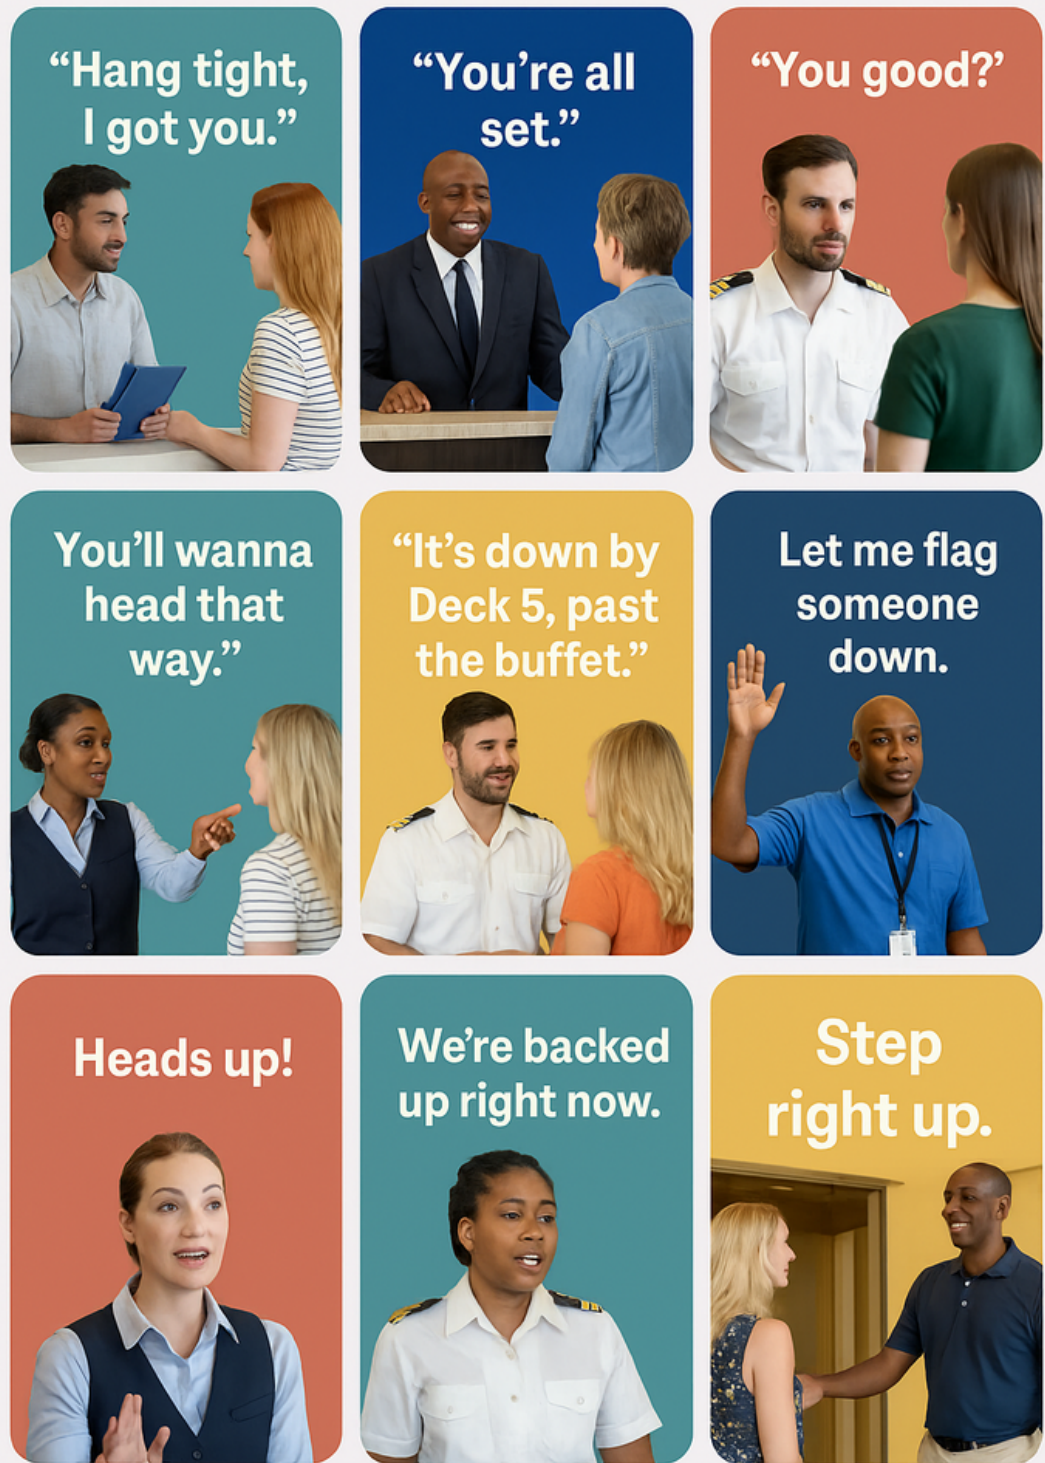

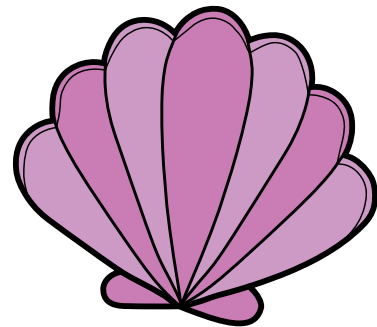

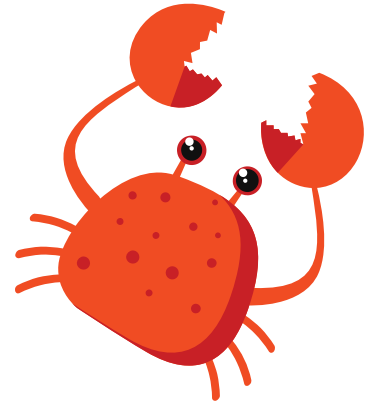

We're backed up right now, especially after lunch. Maybe take the stairs if you can?

👤 Passenger:

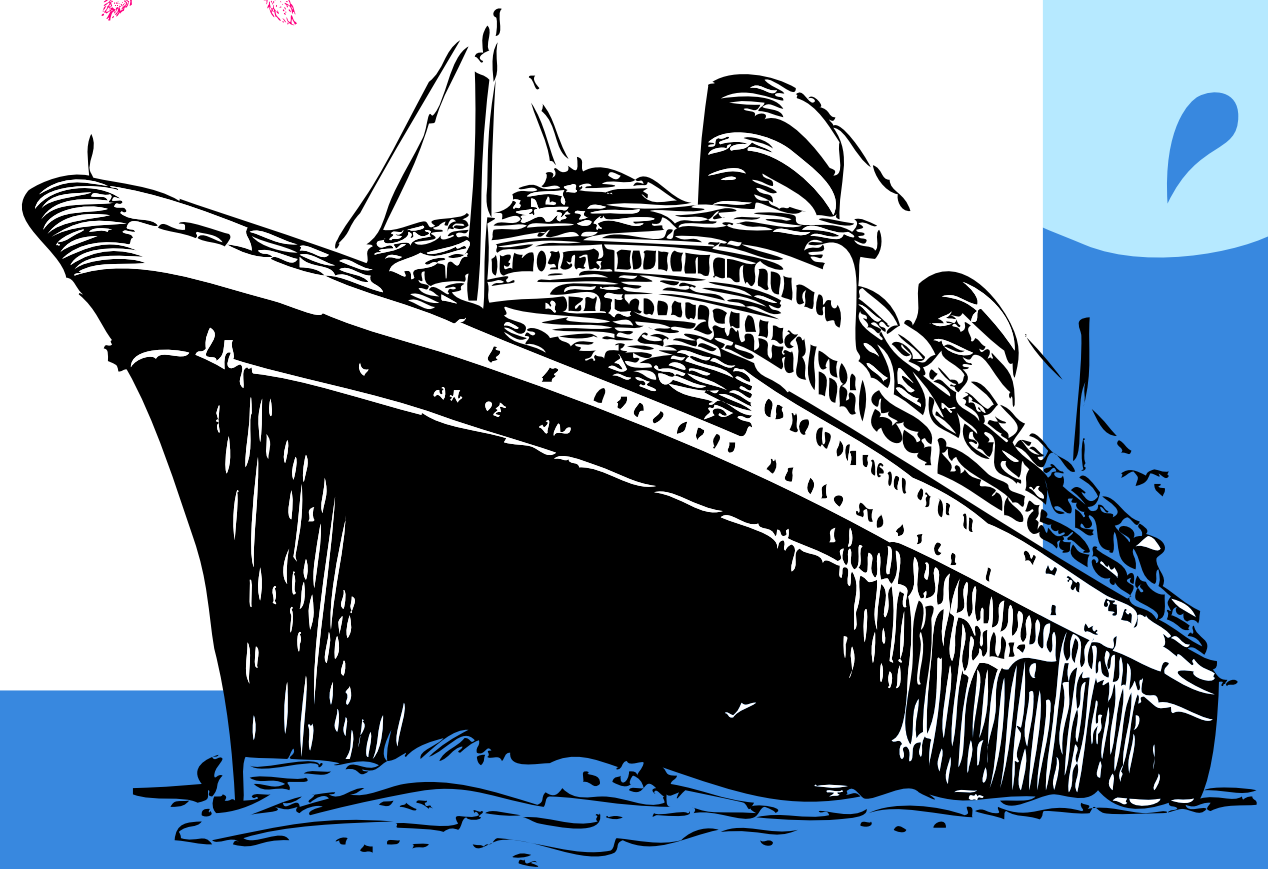

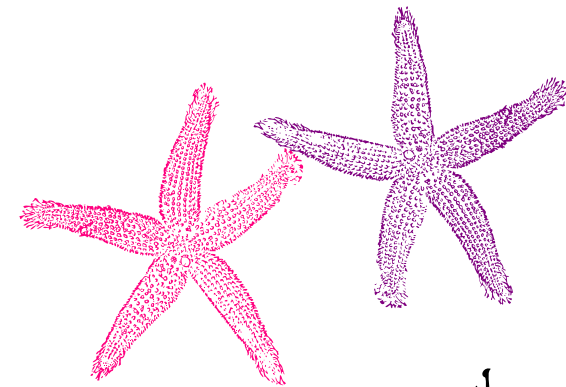

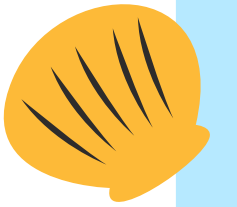

Will do. You've been super helpful!

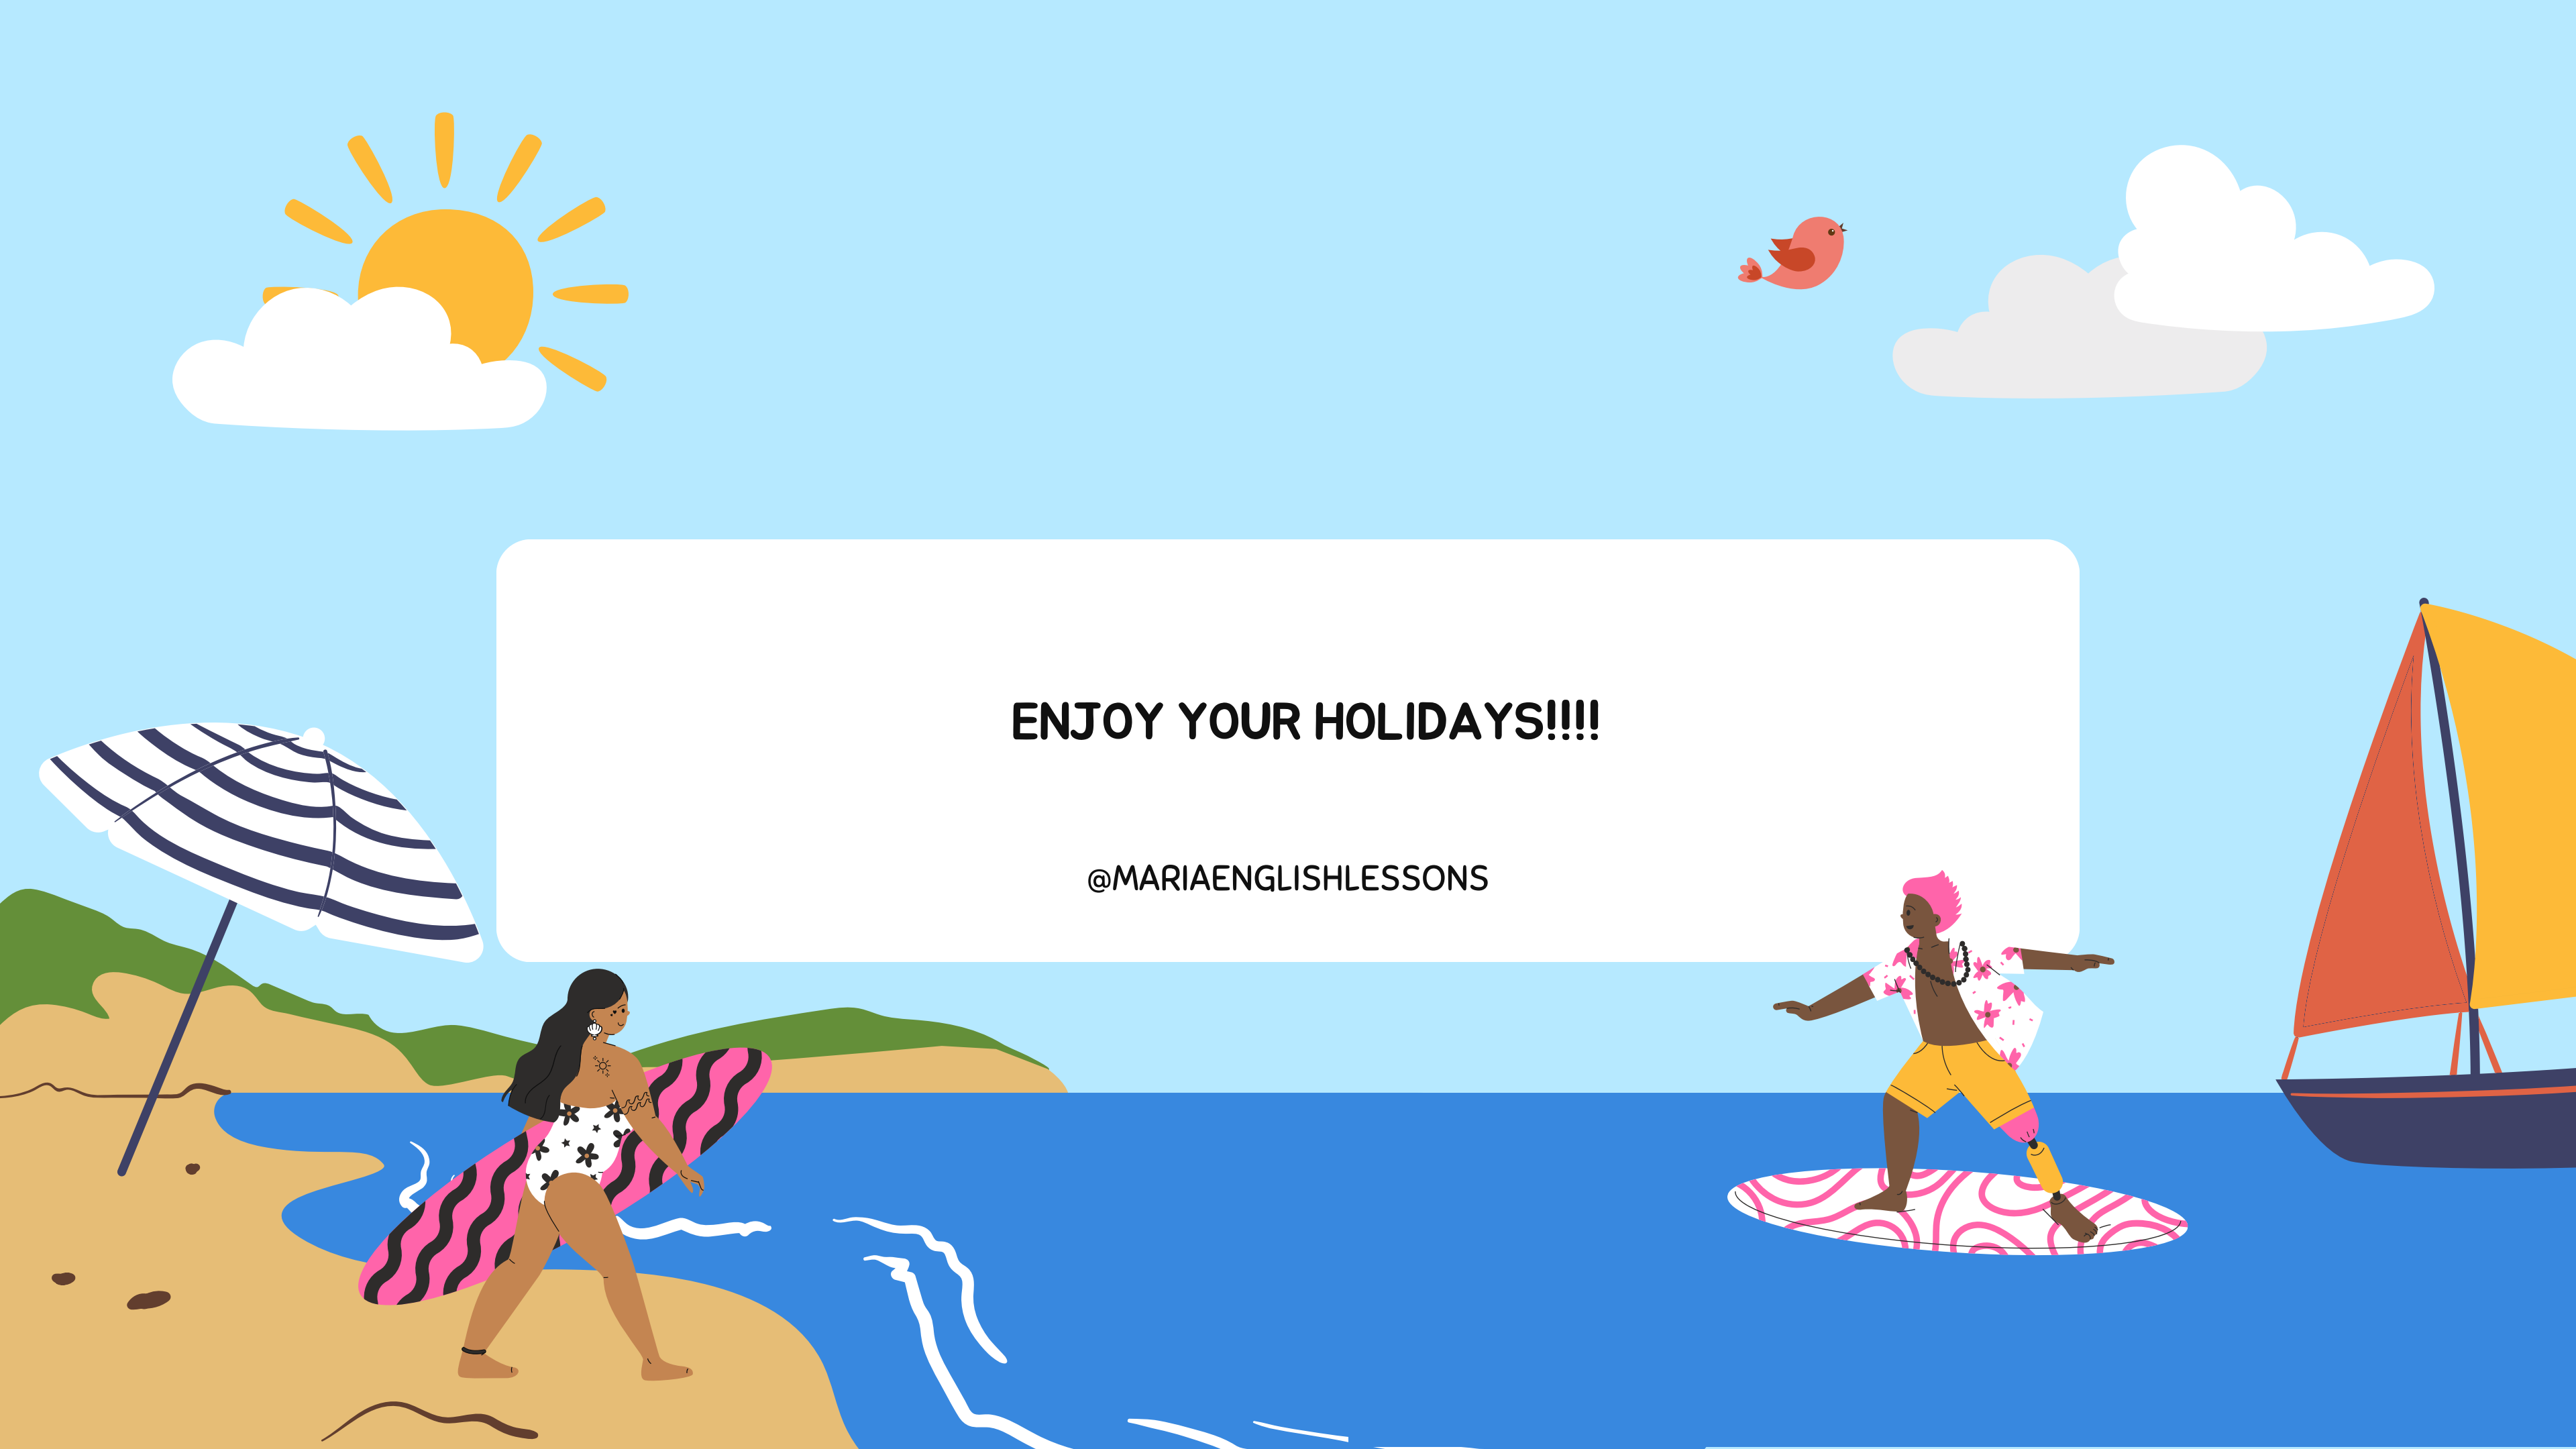

👤✈️ Crew:

Anytime! Step right up to Guest Services if you need anything else!
