

GRAMMAR PRACTICE B2

CORRECT THE SENTENCES 2

Each sentence contains one or more mistakes. Rewrite the sentence correctly.

Verb Tenses

By next July, I will work for this company for ten years.

I wish I didn't spend so much money when I was younger.

The train leaves before we had reached the station.

She has been knowing him since they were at university.

No sooner I had opened the email than my computer crashed.

We were discussing the proposal when the CEO has suddenly entered the room.

It's the third time he forgot his password this month.

I would rather you don't tell anyone what happened.

Modal Verbs

You needn't have bought so much food; everyone cancelled at the last minute. (The speaker bought the food unnecessarily.)

He can't have stolen the money because he wasn't in the office, but nobody knows where he was.

You ought arrive earlier if you want to make a good impression.

They should have informed us sooner, but at least we can still make arrangements.

She may not passed the exam because she looked extremely confident afterwards.

We could go to the conference if we would receive funding.

GRAMMAR PRACTICE

Conditionals

If I wouldn't have taken that job, I wouldn't be living abroad now.

Had I known about the traffic, I would leave earlier.

If she were more organised, she wouldn't have forgotten to submit the application yesterday.

If they had invested in renewable energy years ago, they will be making much higher profits now.

Supposing you would lose your passport while travelling, what would you do?

But for his advice, I would make a much bigger mistake.

Reported Speech

She said that she is moving to Canada the following month.

The journalist asked the minister why did he refuse to answer the question.

He told me don't worry because everything would be fine.

They said us that the deadline had been extended.

My brother asked me where had I learned to speak Italian so fluently.

Reporting Verbs

The doctor advised me avoiding processed food.

She denied to have seen the confidential documents.

They persuaded us taking part in the research project.

The witness claimed having seen the suspect near the scene.

He accused his colleague for leaking the information.

Infinitives and Gerunds

Il distinctly remember to lock the front door before leaving.

She stopped to work for the company after the merger.

We regret informing you that your application has been unsuccessful.

The lecturer went on explaining the theory after the interruption.

I was made attending the meeting despite being on holiday.

Complex Comparatives

The more harder you work, the easier success becomes.

This proposal is far more superior to the previous one.

The sooner we act, the less problems we will encounter.

His performance was nowhere near as impressive than I had expected.

The company grew twice as fast than its main competitor.

The less people participate, the fewer representative the results become.

Today's exam was by far the most difficult one that I have ever taken.

The weather was getting more and more worse as the day progressed.

Her latest novel is not nearly as engaging that her first one.

The longer the negotiations continued, the much more complicated the agreement became.